The Court, having previously ordered the government to provide the defense with a "mirror image" of the defendant's hard drive now orders that the defense may provide this mirror image to the defense expert, Jeff Fischbach, 9909 Topanga Canyon Blvd., Suite 205, Chatsworth, CA 91311, subject to the following conditions:

1. Jeff Fischbach shall keep the "mirror images" in a locked, safe and secure location accessible only to Mr. Fischbach or to those working under his direction and assisting him in the defense of this matter.

2. Jeff Fischbach shall not permit any person to have access to the "mirror images" except for attorneys, experts, investigators, and others assisting in the defense of this matter.

3. Mr. Fischbach shall sign an agreement provided by the government precluding him from reproducing or distributing any visual images ("protected Materia"), regardless whether the images are in the form of photographs, computer images, or otherwise. This does not bar reproducing or distributing to defense counsel, the defendant, or those assisting in the defense non-graphic files, such as text files, log files, directory trees, etc.

4. No visual computer images of any kind shall be distributed to the defendant without further court order.

5. No other person shall be allowed to examine the above stated material without further court order.

6. No other copies of the above stated material shall be made without further court order.

7. At the conclusion of his work on the case, Jeff Fischbach shall return the "mirror images" to defense counsel or the government for destruction. The "clean" storage media will be returned to defense counsel.

IT IS SO ORDERED.
